Ascension praying to receive Christ as Savior.

A middle-aged delivery man by the name of Ascención, brought us the meat we ordered for the children’s feeding program. He expressed a sense of awe, stating that he felt something special and wonderful at our Vida Community Center. The goosebumps on his arms were evidence of this sensation, leading him to ask repeatedly what was happening. I explained that this experience was because of the presence of the Holy Spirit and God’s self-revelation. I then asked Ascención if he desired to receive God into his life. Upon his affirmative response, I led him in a prayer to invite the Savior into his heart. Please pray for Ascención’s ongoing spiritual growth and maturation.

Luis Alfonso had a very different experience. He is a well educated young man in his early thirties. He was full of curiosity and questions. I spent several days giving him in-depth theological answers. As we talked, Luis would explain back to me in an exacting manner what he understood me to say, and would structure his synopsis in a clear, concise, methodical way. He connected concepts and repeated them back like mathematical formulas. He blew me away. I never in my life ever spoke to anyone who was Biblically illiterate and could draw such deep insights. I thought to myself that his mind grasps insights like the Apostle Paul; And yet Luis said he was not ready to make a commitment. He spent several weeks assisting us at our community centers and in all our ministry activities. He returned to his home in Mexico City, and as he reflected on all that he had heard and seen, he made the decision that he saw genuine Christianity in action and he committed his life to Christ.

Lee is in the center, Luis Alfonso is to the far Right

This thrills my soul! in my heart I'm still a "Jesus Freak," even though my long hair is long gone. Larry Norman's song is still my anthem:

"Sing that sweet, sweet song of salvation, and let your laughter fill the air. Sing that sweet, sweet song of salvation, tell the people everywhere... And let the people know that Jesus cares."

In His Service Together with you.
