At the altar call during our worship service, many people came forward to dedicate their lives in service to Jesus Christ as their Lord and Savior. The people rushed to the altar without hesitation. The congregation was moved under conviction and physically came forward to dedicate themselves to be ambassadors of peace, carrying the Good News of salvation in Christ to others. It was a wonderful response to the Word of God. I closed the message with this statement; “The purpose of this life is not to protect your life but to live free, live with a purpose, live bravely, live with dignity and humility and sacrifice all for the glory of His name.” Pastor Roman and I along with the congregation prayed fervently.

Even after the service people still came forward. One young man who is a bus driver came up to me with his family. He poured out his heart in appreciation for the message , saying again and again, “this word filled me”. His soul was flooded, overflowing, filled with hope, and challenged. A twelve-year-old sat next to me and began to share his dreams. He wanted to become a businessman and help people and serve in the ministry. He told me that he was not in school and that he left his father and mother to live with his grandfather to get away from growing up in a life of criminality.

Challenged And Changed Lives

His mother whose life had been consumed by the violence of organized crime came forward and demonstrated her remorse through heartfelt sobs. I want to express my deep appreciation to YOU, the faithful who sacrificially give of themselves so that others can be challenged and changed.

Thank you and God Bless!

Together We make a difference.
