Seasons Greetings,
So... What's new with the Short House? Well, we have a new addition. On November 7th, Josh married Ruth Diaz. I had the privilege of performing the ceremony in Spanish since Ruth's parents do not speak English. We performed the ceremony at a Steak and Ale restaurant in El Paso, Texas. The first order of business was that the father of the Groom asked the father of the Bride for his daughter's hand in marriage for his son. It is a Mexican custom. Immediately after permission was granted, Josh & Ruth exchanged vows and then we had a marriage supper with Ruth's immediate family.

They met at a bowling alley where Josh was singing Karaoke, and after the ceremony, Josh took his bride back to the bowling alley and sang every love song he knew. Josh went into the Army in May and is stationed at Fort Bliss in El Paso, Texas.

The girls are doing great. Amy is 20 now. She has a steady beau. They are both in college. Amy wants to go into elementary education and Todd is studying Respiration Therapy. Amy is active in working with the children's ministry at church. She is a natural nurturer.

Sarah wants you to know that the mark on her face was caused by the dog. She was teasing Jack while he was chewing his mammoth bone and he nailed her nose. Sarah is working in Customer service at an MCI marketing firm. She has attempted to enroll in college but her job has conflicted with her schedule. She hopes to begin on-line classes. She lives on her own and enjoys her independence.

Carol and I are doing great, getting used to becoming empty nesters with just Amy home. She shows up to say hi and bye once in a while. We just celebrated our 27th wedding anniversary. We love and appreciate you and your continued prayer and support.

Together we touch the World!

In His Love,

Lee & Carol
