Children praying before they eat.

The number of jobless adults in Mexico is staggering. As I was leading a group of 12 adults in prayer at a church in Bucerias, I went from person to person, asking them individually to tell me their prayer request. Eleven of the Twelve said that they needed a job. Their need was not a better job, not a higher paying job, but a job; any job! Back at home, in our community, a Middle aged mom lost her job 2 weeks before Christmas. She was devastated since her meager salary was the only stable source of income for her large family. Their children range from diapers to a young adult. To protect her identity, we will call this dear mom Selena.

Selena began to volunteer with the other moms at the LSMI community center in Mezcales. She came because her kids love to come. After our Sunday morning Bible Club, Carol and I took Selena and a couple other moms along with their children to a nearby church in Ixtapa. When the children from the church we were visiting went up front to sing a special song, our children wanted to sing with them. There was not enough room for them in the tiny carport space between the pulpit and the front row of chairs. I told our children to sit down and wait, and we would sing when the other group was done.

When the first group finished, Carol and I got up with our kids to sing songs we had sung together in the program. The kids did great. The congregation enthusiastically applauded. Basking in their applause, the children wanted to sing again. Tears flowed down Selena's cheeks, as she watched her children sing. Later, God's word pierced her heart and the tears continued to flow as she heard the message of the God who meets our greatest need by bring us the gift of salvation through Jesus Christ.

Thank you for making it possible for us to be there, at their point of need, to point them to the Savior. We couldn't do it without your prayers and support.
