It was like a Mad Max Movie, with anarchy in the streets and famine and desolation in the country side No..., I'm not talking about watching the Sci-fi channel but a real live central American country on the verge of another civil war. There were burning tires in the streets along with barricades constructed by University students and street gangs. The effect of all this upheaval was bringing the city of Managua to a screeching halt. The rioting was provoked by a six percent tax levied on the students. The government responded to their violence by stopping the bus service, leaving tens of thousands of people stranded on the streets. By the time I left the country, the military was on alert and armed soldiers secured the airport to prevent a hostile take over.

While all this was taking place, we were ministering in the sector of Hilario Sanchez. The Government turned a public school over to our National Director for Nicaragua, David Moreno, because there were insufficient government funds to operate the school. By faith, David is educating 350 children and has turned to me to help in this undertaking. Many of these students are gang members and are initiated at a very young age.

Lee sharing Jesus with the children.

Ministering to their bodies, minds, & spirits.

We sponsored an event feeding five hundred kids providing games and piñatas. After that, we shared the Gospel with them. We also invested in the school by buying good used clothing at wholesale so that they could resell them in their villages and help to finance the teacher's salaries. From the profits, they can buy more clothing and have an on going source of income for the schools expenses.

Our primary objective in these trips, as always, is to make disciples through our video Bible school, Vida International. By God's grace, we are planting Bible Schools which are planting churches.

Together we touch the World!
