We were packed like sardines, my knees were poking in the back of the person in front of me. It was pouring down rain. It was humid & hot. The windows were steaming up & there was no air to breathe. I am learning why they call the "Rain Forest" of Central America "Rain Forest"; because it rains. I learned a second lesson, when you are told that the bus has air-conditioning, it means it has an airconditioner, but chances are, it doesn't work.

I tried to make the best use of my 3 hour bus trip to Limón, a sea-port city on the Caribbean. I studied, prayed and apparently fell asleep. I was startled when I heard myself snoring out loud like a pig. I arrived in Limón at night, it was pitch black and in a torrential down pour. A black man with a big white smile said to me in Spanish, "Señor Short, I am Dixon." He was the Costa Rican brother that was coordinating my ministry while there.

Dixon, a Costa Rican national who is representing our video materials in Costa Rica & helping us to make disciples.

God poured out a rich blessing on the people of that town by means of a 30 day evangelistic outreach in which I had the privilege to preach the last three nights, closing out those meetings. It was a "God thing" it just happened. Several churches began to meet outside under a tent, holding open air meetings.

The Lord brought ministries from around the world to minister in that place. It was harvest time in Limón and our video discipleship materials were joyfully received by the 15 pastors that we were able to bless. Thank you for sending me and our video Bible school curriculum. Your prayers & financial partnership makes this possible.

We hosted lunch & blessed these Pastors with Video Bible school Curriculum. One pastor thanked me for providing delicious nourishment both physically and spiritually.
