Trujillo- For eight hours we snaked along the desolate Peruvian coast. We traveled northward catching glimpses of desert sands lifted by the winds and wrapping around huge jagged boulders. These enormous rocks were planted on the edge of cliffs overlooking the sea. It reminded me of a sci-fi outer space landscape, a surreal "on another planet" type panorama of massive hills made up of rock, "powder" sand, and dirt. We arrived in the dark at the bus station in Trujillo. Pastor Cesar Chavarry met us and took us to our hotel where we spent some time in prayer together.

The next day Pastor Herbert Jimenez and I (our South America representative from Lima, Peru) ministered to a dozen Pastors and church leaders. We then planned to play just a little of a video teaching from VIDA International, our Bible school. They were very excited about the Bible School. They wanted to watch the whole teaching, an introduction did not satisfy their need in that moment. They were spiritually hungry. They didn't want to leave. The dry desert that engulfed them physically also appeared to scorch them spiritually.

We were invited to minister at the church called "Aposento Alto" (The Upper Room) four children accepted Christ and approximately 25 youth rededicated their hearts. We ministered for 2 hours and then prayed over each one. They returned to their seats and the music minister dismissed the congregation, but nobody wanted to leave. I could not believe it. So, we worshipped for close to an hour.

That next Sunday, we ministered at the "La Buena Semilla Comunidad de Fe" (The Good Seed Community of Faith). We were with them for Sunday school and then a 2 1/2 hour worship service which included Pastor Herbert and my self sharing. I thought that finally we would be going to eat. Wrong! They wanted me to share more of my testimony. I could not believe the spiritual hunger in Trujillo. After sharing with them, we prayed over them individually. God touched their hungry hearts.
