Training Up Children To Love The Lord

Celebrating Day of the Child.

Little 8-year-old Gael-de-Jesus was very restless during the praise and worship service in Cardboard-Landia. He went up to his teacher Vicki and asked permission to dance before the Lord in worship. She answered him yes, he could worship the Lord. Gael began to dance all throughout the church in a very tender and special way. After the service little Gael said to his teacher, I do not come here to the Church and to the Community Center for the things that I receive such as food and gifts. I keep coming here because I want to follow Christ and learn to be a good Christian.

Vicki shared with me another occasion when she had stepped out of the service and gone downstairs to the first floor so she could pray for the great needs of her church family. When she finished praying, she opened her eyes and the first thing she saw was this little 8-year-old boy standing in front of her with his head bowed and his hands folded, tears running down his face while he was in prayer. He had come downstairs to intercede with her. When Gael was finished praying, he was so full of God's love and gave his teacher a big strong hug. Gael said, "Teacher, I feel so much love for God and I want to be a good boy for him."

This month we held a graduation for our children's discipleship program and we celebrated Day of the Child. During the Children's Day Celebration, I noticed that Gael was struggling and barely able to read his part in the program. I told Vicki that she needed to tutor him in reading because I believe that Gael has a special call on his life to someday pastor a church. I hope that in the near future we will begin helping the children with their homework so that they will excel in their studies. This is how we Feed Children Body, Soul and Spirit.

Thank you for helping to make this possible. We love and Bless you!
