Learning the 23rd psalm in Spanish and English...

We began our Great Adventure under the cloak of darkness. Our alarm went off at 2a.m. & we crawled out of bed. I mean, we sprung to our feet like ‘middle aged’ minute men. Our “98” GMC Jimmy Locked & loaded and we began our Incredible Journey to our home, South of the Border. The road trip to Mexico was necessary to bring down a more reliable vehicle. We made it without needing any road side assistance. We saw a compact car that broke down out in the middle of nowhere and a Mexican Angel (Tourist roadside assistance) began to push it bumper to bumper. Before our eyes, the Angel began to rev it up. He went from 10mph to 60+ mph. This high speed road show kept us entertained as they were weaving in and out of traffic, passing slower moving vehicles. These wanna be stunt car racers even passed Federales without getting stopped. We kept our distance in case they spun out of control.

We arrived alive in San Luis Potosi and bunked down for the night. In the morning after breakfast we headed out looking for the highway to Guadalajara. The sign was wrapped around the poll. I got out of my 4x4 and unbent the sign enough to see which way the arrow was pointing. We started up the steep mountain pass and came back down the cascade of narrow curves, still unsure if we were on the right road, so I pulled off to ask directions. Suddenly, a monster dump truck came roaring past us. We got back on the mountain road and began to go around the bend to see the dump truck crashed into a double tractor trailer. They both flipped over and were laying on their sides! Cargo spilled and no one was moving. Carol and I went for help. Praise God, for His Angels were watching over us!

Esmeralda serving the younger kids

I thought it was fitting that the children were memorizing the 23rd Psalm in Spanish and English while we were on the road. "El Senor es mi Pastor!" When we made it back to the ministry base the older kids were serving the younger ones and our staff and volunteers

Together We are LifeSavers!
