Giving Thanks 4 God's Kids

I do not know of anything that touches hearts and opens tear ducts more than seeing children passionately serving and ministering to the Lord. It encourages me when the Holy Spirit is moving upon the children in such a powerful way so that they are ardently developing their artistic talents with instruments, voices and dance. I love it when I see their love of God, and their fellow citizens expressed through their culture and traditions. It blesses me to see the continuum of God's servants being raised up through all generations that will continue to worship him long after we are gone and graduated.

The Kingdom continues. Our investment in making disciples will be producing future generations of Kingdom Kids that will continue to have a ripple effect through out time. One example is 7-year-old Crystalita, who worships morning and night in her rustic home in Cardboard Landia, practicing her singing and perfecting her worship so that she will be ready to lead in special solo pieces on Sunday morning in her Church. She also ministers in events and on special occasions. Crystalita along with 8-year old Ailin serve together on Sunday morning as part of the regular Worship Team.

We also have 14 year old Perla who is the aunt to a set of 10 year old fraternal twins Angel and his sister Angela along with their 9 year old cousin Cristian. They are accomplished dancers from traditional Mexican dances to Jazz. I was blessed to be the Master of Ceremony for a 3 hour Mexican Independence celebration that blessed the socks off all those in attendance. We spent 2 hours in the church up stairs that day and one hour down stairs chowing down on a variety of the best dishes in Mexican cuisine. The women had even prepared traditional deserts and typical homemade candies.

(Lee Short Ministries International)

I am so blessed to serve these people in this poor community in Mexico. The same can be said about the children in the Dominican Republic and Haiti. We do not run a daycare or babysit children, no, we are raising Kingdom Kids who worship and serve their King. I want to thank you all who are making this possible to raise up these future generations. Together we are leaving a legacy of Love for Christ.

We want to thank you for your prayers and support for this ministry.

Together We are LSMI/Vida Internacional,

Lee & Carol
