I love preaching on the streets in the open air. I love it when Christ's message of Good News goes tapping on the front doors and wafting through the windows. Street meetings reach families who otherwise would not enter the confines of a church building. We were ministering the Good News of New Life and Restoration to the Father through Jesus his Son.

Folks began to gather and the crowd in the street began to swell. Folks were drawn out of their homes and into the street to hear the message. This is a tiny town of about 1,100 folks called La Colonia, in the province of Pedernales. Our two-day Revival Campaign seemed to touch everyone's hearts. There were three small churches including our Vida house mission participating in this little community outreach.

We pooled our talents and human resources together and we ministered in song, dance, public prayers & the reading of God's word. I noted that after I preached on the second night and all the people left the service full of joy. I asked Pastor Pedro why is everyone so happy? He said, because you spoke words of life and not condemnation. Most of the evangelistic campaigns the preacher condemns the people of their sins. But you preached a message of hope. Your message was a sound Biblical message with a lot of practical application. The people are not used to this quality of teaching and that's why they are joyful.

plant out of their home. They grew up here and love the people they pastor. They are a gifted family and a real treasure to this community. My friend from India, Luis Mathai was very passionate when he was sharing God's word. Together we are believing God to purchase a property for this new church plant.

They need a place to worship. We will keep you updated once we locate property.

Thank you for sending me to share Good News in the open air and to open hearts. We couldn't do it without your continued prayers and support.

Together we are LSMI/Vida Internacional,
