Just a few blocks from my hotel room was the "Market of the Witches". I have never personally seen a culture so steeped in witchcraft. It was like a giant Farmer's market for several streets east and west and about 10 blocks North and South. Vendor after vendor was a practicing witch who sold charms, idols and artifacts to be used to bring good luck, fight off evil spirits and to cast spells on enemies.

The most shocking thing I saw was hundreds of dried up aborted llamas. These along with other articles are placed under the foundation during the construction of a home to protect and ward off evil spirits. The people also believe that every object in nature has a living spirit within, of which you must be careful. They believe that some are evil and can bring calamity on your life.

Jesus said "You shall know the truth and the truth shall set you free". For this reason He is sending us to bring His truth to these people blinded by the devil.

Thank you for making it possible.
