I told a little kindergardener that I was her friend and she replied, "NO, YOU ARE NOT MY FRIEND". I was shocked at her response. Then she said, "YOU ARE NOT MY FRIEND BECAUSE YOU ARE MY FAMILY!" Wow! I love it!!!

It's back to school and it's back on track ministering to the children; Feeding them body, soul and spirit! The startup day of the program we gave the kids their back packs and their school supplies. One little girl was so thrilled with her new school supplies that when she got home, she measured all of her new school supplies with the metric ruler she discovered tucked away in the back of her notebook. This cutie pie spent the rest of the afternoon telling her mother how many centimeters each of her new crayons were as well as her new pen-cils, pens, notebooks, erasers, glue bottle, and scissors. She measured everything she could find. When two of our newcomers, Santos and Carlos, got home and showed off their new backpacks to their parents, they were blown away! They could not believe it. They were very grateful and for the assistance that their boys received.

We got reports back that when many of our kids got to school the next day they were 'strutting their stuff' and telling their teachers and fellow classmates about "la escuelita" (their "little school"). We have a new volunteer mom that is a kindergarden teacher and she was full of praise for the good values, the age specific activities, and the positive reinforcement that the children are receiving. We started off with a warm welcome to the new kids and a welcome back to the faithful, the memorization of Ephesian's 2:8, a prayer of thanksgiving, lunch and classes followed by cleanup time, a prayer of dismissal after which they received the Backpacks and supplies. We continue to give thanks for each and every one of you who are active in your prayers and gifts that make the difference in these little lives. Thank You!
